Subject: Ogyen Drodul Trinley Dorj Visit

The 17th Karmapa (Ogyen Drodul Trinley Dorj) will be visiting Seattle from May 5-11th. He is the heir apparent to the Dalai Lama and recognized by the majority of world leaders and adherents as such. However, he is not recognized in that capacity by the Chinese government. As you may recall during the Dalai Lama's visit in 2010, there were numerous demonstrations at many of the Dalai Lama's appearances. I would expect that there may be demonstrations here as well. The State Department will have a better handle on that but we will keep that in mind as the event approaches.

The Karmapa will be doing a public speaking at the Seattle Center Exhibition Hall on May 9th. It is very likely this event will quickly sell out.

His lineage locally is housed at Nalanda West which is located at 3902 Woodland Park Ave N, Seattle, WA 98103. Whether or not he will be doing any public appearances here has not been advertised. It has a very limited seating capacity. And I am assuming he is not staying there but if he is, it will prove to be an interesting security challenge. I believe last time he stayed downtown in one of the hotels.

About the 17th Karmapa

His Holiness the 17th Gyalwang Karmapa Ogyen Trinley Dorje is the head of the 900 year old Karma Kagyu Lineage and guide to millions of Buddhists around the world.

Currently 29 years old, the Karmapa resides in his temporary home at Gyuto Monastery in India after making a dramatic escape from Tibet in the year 2000.
